2007 Merlot, Central Coast

The Appellation

California has several different growing regions within its borders. Those moderated by the cool coastal climate develop wines of intensity and depth not found in the inland regions. It is from these cool regions along the North Coast and Central Coast that we select fruit for our wines, capturing the robust aromas and rich supple flavors

Winemaker's Notes

Our 2007 Central Coast Merlot is a lovely bright violet in hue. The aroma is filled with red fruit, mainly red cherries and raspberries. There is an underlying note of tobacco also. It has a medium to light body that is balanced with light oak tannins. This wine is an easy drinker that is not overpowering on its own.
